LIVING BLACK AND WHITE

Sometime I think readers think writers fill their columns with words so insubstantial that they, the words, are the essence of lard melting over a slow flame, just so much grease.

The guys with the cameras come to our rescue and show people and things writers only describe, quote and ask questions of, i.e. the popularity of LIFE magazine before television news, the increase of picture pages in contemporary newsmagazines with the advent of mass color TV news coverage, like that, and greater use of closeups in general newspapers, as if larger meant greater certainty of the truth the picture portrays.

Edward R. Murrow tuned in 1950ish America in network television series intoning "you are there" and "see it now" and words may mislead, but pictures never lie.

Not quite. Murrow happened to be one of the brightest guys in electronic communications, one of the ablest questioners, one of the guttiest types "who went there" before "you got to see it now." The camera never dominated his words, which rolled an incessant stream of smoke from his inevitable cigaret. A camera was a tool, like his voice and his typewriter. No one has done it better.

But in an era of trivia and doubt and dubious direction after so much is said, and probably too much about everything, words once again will dominate communications. People have seen just about everything over the tube: men bouncing around the moon, an Asian war every night after work for most of a decade, riot, rebellion, pop culture, Mars, the top, the bottom and slices of life they wished they had forgotten.

Sooner or later, the camera guys are going to be blamed for portraying life as it is, or as it isn't exactly like writers have been blamed for embellishing on the facts or soliloquizing reality and judgement.

I have never gained any competence with a camera, and that is a token for my inestimable incompetence with fingers and things, and the way Mike Peck keeps his job shooting up things that I merely see.

It is my pliant opinion, however, in this era of flexibility on just about everything, that words, their spelling, their orderly delivery in phrases, sentences, and paragraphs once again will raise to some respect in our high schools and colleges and graduate schools, where some journal level students are required to take courses in grammar, spelling, punctuation, things, it seems, they missed spending their childhood in front of a television.

I have seen a lot of things, but I never took along a camera to document them. I think maybe I took along something better, the sense to hear, smell, yes at times even taste and touch what was to be seen. And if I had been busy taking pictures for publication, which is vital, I would have missed what is invisible to pictures, even X-rays, and beyond words in any immediate sense. "These senses tend to serve a writer, though he may fail to use them effectively enough to reach the reader, who has his own set of antennae through which to compare and remember.

I think television will one day flash as many words as pictures on public and commercial network screens, while readers will enunciate them for people who can't see or aren't looking, but are in earshot of the set or speaker.

And when this happens, people will become involuntary readers again and look past the pictures to those 9-point objects they have trouble spelling and punctuating anymore.

Why not? People are living longer than ever. And doctors like Houston's Deakey are saying on television talk shows they expect life to reach 150 years within a few generations. Or at least he says it is conceivable.

And if middle, active age is up to 125, say, won't people have a lot more time to read or absorb information other than by watching moving pictures? It may perhaps be done on screen by subliminal delivery, flashing words so fast they are subconsciously absorbed, but consciously all but unseen. The political implications promise horror stories, but the possibilities for education and transmitting information are enormous.

I've seen the tooling up of a Saturn rocket on a Canaveral launchpad, and Dallas amidst presidential assassination, and presidents and diplomats at close hand and the usual pall of tragedies and mayhem, and I don't need too much of that stuff on evenings or mid-day news to make my day. Like a lot of people, not just writers, I've the instant replay in my head. If I am misled, biased, it's my own fault.

I have a thing about words, and why shouldn't I? Language stands along side architecture, art, music, mathematics as elements which hold man's world together.

There are too many words, except the right ones drawn from an English batching dozens of tongues together. The writer is supposed to find them, size them and order them out to a reader's advantage and, perhaps, enjoyment.

And if words bring together an idea or a concept or spark a thought which invents a new turn or even a new kind of camera, for use when words fail, then words give writers an even chance with the visual experts looking through zoom lenses, mini-cams, color studio models and the 16-millimeters.

If cameras had been at the Alamo, chances are we would remember the carnage more than the courage.

Pictures in color and action are marvelous ways to inform and entertain. But visualized language enables the recess of one mind to find the recess of another.

Write on, Mike baby, and you millions of picture buffs and TV-aholics. Someday, words once again will titillate and triumph in living in black and white.

Milam County Sheriff Leroy Broadus departed from a commissioners court meeting Monday morning with the assurance that his request for salary increases for deputies and dispatchers would be taken into consideration.

County Judge O.B. Harden made the motion himself to table the request until the 1978 county budget is drawn up in August, at which time, he said, "we will consider salaries for all employees." A roll call vote recorded the four commissioners and the judge voting "aye."

Broadus had first made request for salary adjustments at a June 13 meeting.

Harden read a statement prepared by one of the commissioners telling of a meeting Broadus had with commissioners in December at one of the warehouses when he said he needed to know if the court would go along with a certain salary and benefits for his deputies.

The statement said a written request was given to Harden who presented it to commissioners on January 13, and the request was approved.

Broadus said the statement was "basically right," but at that time deputies were being paid $465 a month and "there was no way to hire qualified men at that salary." He also said at the time he had no idea of the hours his deputies would have to put in.

Sheriff Broadus talked to The Herald after the meeting and said Falls and Robertson counties both pay their deputies more than Milam County.

"I'm not asking for more people or more cars -- just that my deputies get paid properly for the hours they put in. I'm trying to save the county money -- if another deputy is hired that will mean buying another car and added car expense," he said.

He added that his department is able to handle law enforcement in the county now, "but in six months or a year when all that construction starts it may be different."

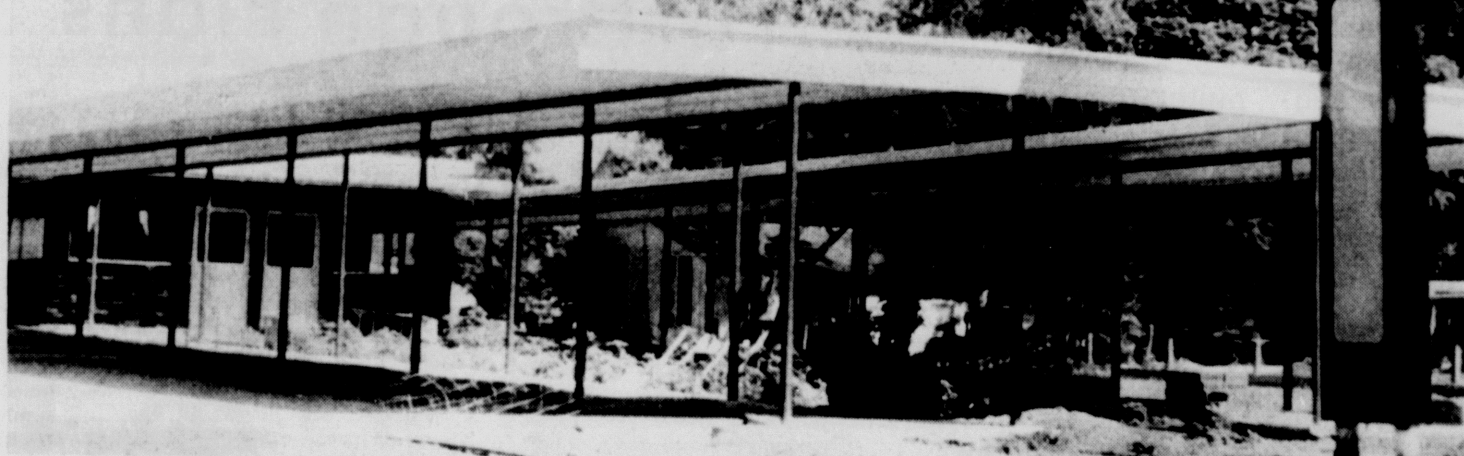

Broadus told commissioners Monday that he had promised to provide good law enforcement when he ran for the office, but "if there is constant turnover it will reflect on the department."

Judge Harden said the balance in the county's general fund is $230,000, with spending going over the budget this year. He noted that the county has an equalization program going to equalize taxes on utilities and it should mean more money coming in.

Other budget requests noted was one from the City of Cameron to boost payment for rural fire calls from $800 to $2400 a year, and a request for salary increases for county extension service staff.

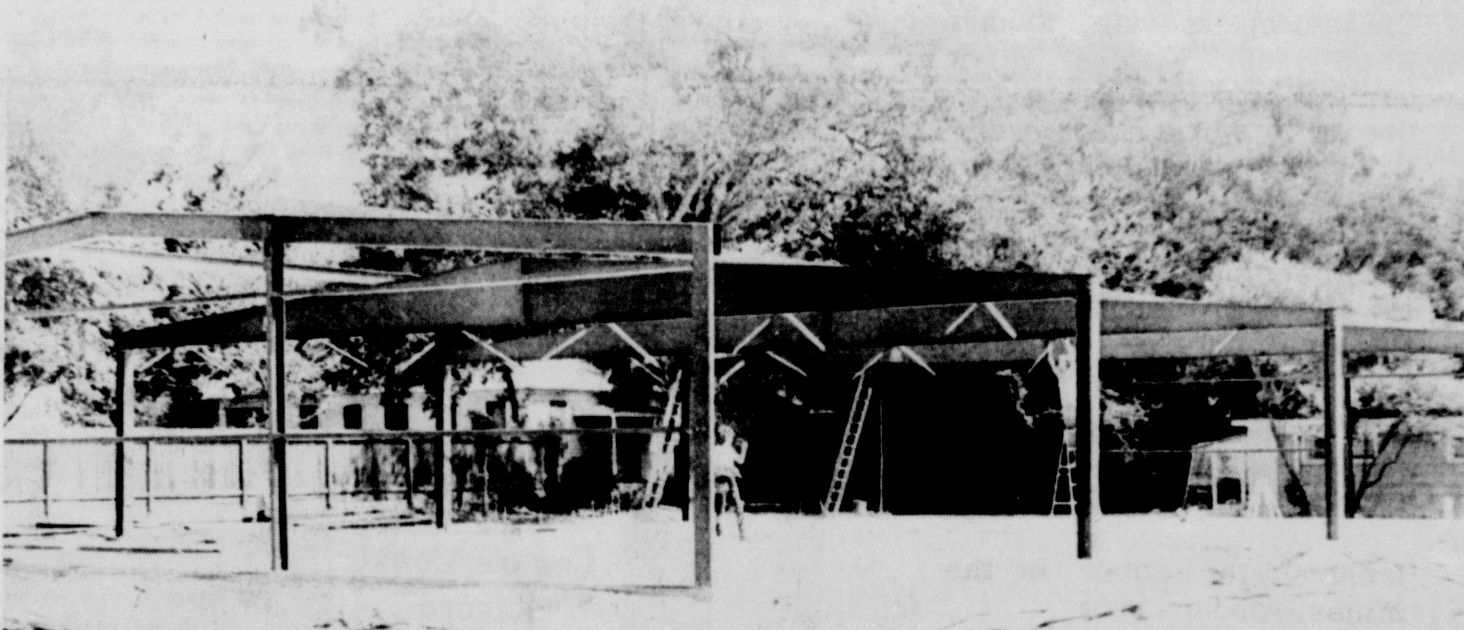

In other action commissioners voted to increase civil fees in the county and district clerks offices from $1 to $5. County Atty. John Henderson also reported that $1 will be added to present court costs for criminal cases starting Sept. 1.

County Auditor John Andres reported receipt of a revenue sharing check for $38,101. The money will be divided among the four precincts with $6,858.18 going to Pct. 1; both Pcts. 2 and 3 getting $11,430.30; and Pct 4 getting $8,382.22.

CONSTRUCTION CONTINUES in Cameron with the building of a new Sonic fast food outlet, top, which is near completion, and an office building just starting. That building will have 6,000 feet of office space and will be of steel and brick construction. Cameron businessman Gene Blake is owner of the office building.

Flea Market To Open July 23

The farmers market in the Youth Exposition building is being expanded to include a Flea Market, to open Saturday, July 23 at 8 a.m.

A small fee will be charged for each selling unit in the flea market, and everyone with items to sell is invited to come down that Saturday.

In addition to fresh produce, jams, jellies, pickles and baked goods are also available at the farmers market.

The Buckholts school board meeting Monday selected Buckholts State Bank as school depository, voted to join the Region 6 coop for crime prevention and drug education program, and amended the district policy on free and reduced meals.

43% Vote In Beef Checkoff As Deadline Nears

Forty-three percent of the 370 cattle producers in Milam County who registered have voted in the national beef referendum, according to a report Tuesday morning from the ASCS office. A total of 160 had voted.

Final day for voting is Friday, July 15.

At the end of the first week of voting in the referendum, 22% of the registered beef producers in Texas have voted, according to the Texas Beef Development Taskforce (BDT), the group that has conducted the educational effort for the program.

"We have just finished a swing around the state and are very encouraged by the number of cattlemen supporting this self-help program," says J.D. Sartwell, a Sealy rancher who is chairman of the Texas BDT.

But he admits that he is surprised at the misleading questions raised about this being a government program. "It is not a government program," he declares. "It is a cattlemen's program--developed by cattlemen and to be run by cattlemen--for the purpose of increasing profits for all cattlemen. And we don't believe many cattlemen will oppose increased profits."

On Yoe High, OJT

Board Hears Renovation Report

Cameron school trustees heard a progress report on building renovations, approved athletic and band budgets, awarded bids for supplies, and hired three new faculty members at a regular meeting Monday night.

Supt. Buddy Dulin reported that two restrooms at Yoe High are being redone and plans are to put tile on the junior high restroom floors. Those restrooms are also being painted and fixtures and doors are being renovated.

Dulin said he would put funds for new junior high lockers in the next budget and will be able to tell how many the school will be able to replace following action by the Legislature on the school finance bill.

Head coach Max Graham presented his $35,278 athletic budget, which is a little less than last year's. He explained that more was spent last year because of starting a girls athletic program.

The budget includes: $6783 for football equipment; $1058, basketball; $1532, track; $488, baseball; $300 volleyball; $130, golf; $272, tennis; $2000, training room supplies; $600, field house equipment; $2000, meals for all sports; $2000, transportation; $2000 film and processing; $800, labor and security; $1745, coach clinics; $2800, insurance; $4500, officials; $300, scouting; $1350, athletic banquet; $720, entry fees; and $2400, awards.

Graham said money could be saved on food for trips by taking sandwiches from the lunchrooms. The question of banquet costs was raised by Becky Magre. Bill Hornung suggested that perhaps the Booster Club could channel funds into the banquet instead of other functions.

It is expected that gate receipts, which finance most of the athletic program will be about the same as last year, or $29,733. Last year's expenses totaled $39,372.

Yoe band director Jerry Bartley's band budget of $18,580 was also approved.

Trustees voted to reemploy the school's current auditors, Rix, Estes and Kollander.

Low bid was awarded to Oak Farms for milk, Borden for ice cream, and Rainbo for bread. There were no gasoline bids.

Illegal Signs Net Citation

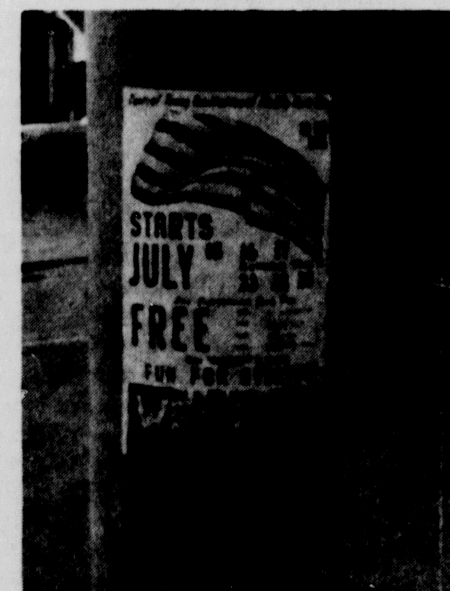

Citations will be served on an Austin firm after it pasted signs advertising a promotion on city light standards and utility poles Saturday afternoon, according to Ed Bigbee, city building official.

Bigbee said a city ordinance forbids the placing of signs on city property, and a state law does the same for signs on the highways. He said not even political posters are allowed, and the only legal signs are temporary ones on private property such as for sale signs for a home.

He said the law also provides that old signs that are not maintained must come out.

Bigbee added that each sign posted by the firm is a separate offense, punishable by a fine of up to $100, and each day the sign stays up is counted as a separate offense.

More Juice For A Boom?

Technology is large in state and national budgeting, re: the Carter defeat in the Senate for a cutback on the Clinch River nuclear breeder reactor and TSTI's 38.8 percent budget increase for the Waco campus.

President Carter sought to contain world plutonium production in the test and lost by a 49-38 vote. One hundred and fifty million dollars, recommended in the Ford budget, was authorized for the Energy Research and Development Administration, but proponents who defeated the Administration's bid to limit the Oak Ridge, Tenn., project wanted a compromise $75 million authorization for ERDA.

In Waco, $1.6 millions was budgeted for new construction as well as a pay increase of 6.3 percent for personnel. The whole Texas-wide TSTI gained a 37 per cent increase over the past year.

The Clinch River issue was said to be a double setback for the administration since the Senate also voted 69-23 to appropriate $14 millions for a Barnwell, S.C. nuclear fuel reprocessing plant, which is designed to produce plutonium. Sen. Edward Kennedy lost that vote and Sen. Dale Bumpers, of Arkansas, lost the Senate debate over Clinch River.

The issue is the Administration wishes to maintain control of more conventional nuclear stockpiles as uranium sources diminish and contain use of reactors which "breed" plutonium for additional uses.

The President fears the spread of the new fuel would only aggravate the problems of nuclear weapons proliferation, which he hopes will be reduced between the Soviet Union and U.S. in SALT III talks.

Technology derives the same split in opinion that experts in law or medicine evidence. Defenders of the Clinch River project think the device is safe, though in a memo several years earlier said Oak Ridge "is one of the worst sites ever selected for nuclear power plant."

Whatever, Texas and nation are committed to a greater and more sophisticated technical future, uncertain even to the experts.

A $3-Million Cover...

Alcoa has filed a $3 million performance bond with Texas Railroad Commission to insure proper reclamation procedures in the land mined for lignite.

Alcoa has restored about 800 acres to stripmined land of the 2,000 acres used by the company since smelting began in Milam County in 1952. The company began voluntary reclamation work in 1971.

Result of reclamation is molding the terrain into rolling hills, planted with Coastal bermudagrass and crimson clover, neutralized, fertilized and irrigated from fresh water ponds in the mines, Alcoans note.

In effect, the land well is in better condition than the way stripminers found it.

Which says again technology can be responsible, can yield jobs and productivity in an open area and improve the terrain in the doing.

The bond leaves little the environmentalists and agronomists can say about what can be done with sandy land otherwise useful only for grazing or growing produce, now a dormant crop compared to what it used to be. For if Alcoa falls short, the $3 million will cover it.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

AN OPEN LETTER TO
CAMERON CITIZENS;

On Wednesday, July 6, 1977, a small group of civic minded citizens who love nature stocked the pond at Ledbetter Park with a pair of half-grown domestic ducks, an all white male and a black and white female.

Why? Because they thought it would add to the natural beauty of the park and give all Cameron citizens, but especially city children, an opportunity to learn something of nature in a natural environment. It would also provide entertainment throwing bread to the ducks.

How long did the ducks survive in a public park? For one, only 24 hours!!! In the afternoon of July 7, 1977, a boy was seen chasing, capturing and carrying off the white male -- by the neck!!! The smaller female escaped capture at the same time by retreating to the center of the lake, but her fate will probably be the same as the male's. A grown man stood by and watched as the white duck was captured and killed, but did nothing to prevent it.

It would seem to be a sad commentary on our way of life when harmless and defenseless creatures cannot survive in a public setting. One cannot help but wonder at the failure of parents to teach their children to love and enjoy nature and to respect property. It is also very sad that we, as citizens, are forced to tolerate the willful destruction by a few of property meant for the enjoyment of all.

Actions such as this and a look at the litter in and around Ledbetter Lake very eloquently explain why our country is no longer "America the Beautiful."

CONGRESS BALKS AT CARTER'S CPA BILL

SENATOR HARRY F. BYRD, Jr. (Va.) "...The proposal which has been around the Congress for a long time now, to establish a Consumer (Protection) Agency would merely pyramid on top of all the other programs a new bureau in this field.

"This legislation almost certainly would add to the cost of living...One of the examples referred to by the Senator from Alabama was the Demands of the leaders of big labor unions that their operations be excluded from review should the new Consumer Agency become law..."

SENATOR DEWEY F. BARTLETT (Okla.) "...I believe that the present proposal for the creation of an Agency for Consumer Advocacy is yet another example of useless bureaucracy being created in the name of "consumerism." I hope that those of us in this Congress will recognize that fact, and in so doing, prevent the continued snow job of the American public that proposals of this sort represent..."

REP. DAN QUAYLE (Ind.) "...I can only too recently recall the efforts of the White House to force the committee into voting this bill out by a mere one vote. If it had not been for the intense pressure from the White House and the President, the consumer agency would have died in committee. President Carter must be attempting to pay off a campaign debt to Ralph Nader at the taxpayer's expense..."

REP. ELMFORD A. CEDERBERG (Mich.) "...Once again, the Congress is being requested to create a Federal agency to protect the consumer interest. Even if the consumer interest can be defined with sufficiency, it is questionable whether another layer of Federal bureaucracy could adequately protect it..."

REP. THAD COCHRAN (Miss.) "...I hope that at some point we in Congress shake out the intellectual blinders that have caused us to seek a solution to every problem under the sun with a new Federal agency. Such solutions are no solution at all. Let us throw the "Agency for Consumer Agency" on the bureaucracy scrap heap where it belongs..."

CRUMP'S GRASS ROOTS COMMENT

Presidential candidate Carter promised to reduce the federal bureaucracy. Congress is taking him at his word. They believe in making the present agencies more efficient. They balk at adding a bureaucracy to check up on the present bureaucracies.

All concerned might better spend their efforts in rooting out waste in government and the welfare, Medicaid and social security rip-offs.

Yarbrough Plans Still Confusing

Indicted State Supreme Court Justice Don Yarbrough admitted his guilt to a hastily called news conference last week but did little else to clear up the confusion surrounding his future plans.

Yarbrough, while confessing to "my wrongdoings" and "my sins against God and the people who elected me their servant" refused to elaborate on the scope of the sins or whether or not he planned to resign from the bench of the state's highest court.

Yarbrough's confession came at a press conference called in the Supreme Court chambers amidst tight security and with his wife and three small children looking on.

He stuck strictly to the terse, if somewhat confusing, prepared statement, refused to answer reporters' questions afterwards, and reportedly left town with his family immediately following the short session.

Yarbrough was indicted June 30 by a Travis County grand jury on felony charges of forgery and aggravated forgery.

One day earlier, Houston Dist. Atty. Carol Vance, disclosed tapes he said were of Yarbrough plotting the murder of a Victoria banker who gave testimony against the jurist in another proceeding.

Armed with these tapes and the record of the grand jury, the Judicial Qualifications Commission met July 2 in a closed door session and announced later it would proceed with efforts to have Yarbrough removed from the Supreme Court bench.

At the same time, House Speaker Bill Clayton announced a removal hearing would be held by the House of Representatives on July 15 during the special session.

The resolution introduced by three House members, calls for Gov. Dolph Briscoe to remove Yarbrough from office. The governor has no choice but to comply if the resolution is adopted by a two-thirds majority of both houses of the legislature during the session.

The removal hearing, at which Yarbrough can testify in his own defense, may be held before a select committee or by the full House membership acting as a committee of the whole.

The 35-year-old former Houston attorney also faces disbarment proceedings. He is the first sitting judge of the Supreme Court to ever be indicted.

More Money

State Comptroller Bob Bullock announced last week he is revising upwards by $64.1 million his estimate of state revenues for 1978-79, raising the state's total projected income to $16.5 billion.

The $64.1 million increase includes $60 million that will be available for general use and $4 million in earmarked funds.

The additional $60 million in general revenues means the legislature will have $959.8 million with which to work during the special session in writing a public school finance bill.

Homeowners Insurance

The State Board of Insurance staff has recommended a 3.7 per cent state-wide reduction in property insurance rates.

The recommendation was prepared as part of a rehearing requested by the insurance industry in opposition to a 2.8 per cent rate cut ordered by the board in March.

The industry had requested a 6.6 per cent increase.

The industry requested increase could result in an estimated $45 million increase in premiums paid by policyholders, while the staff recommendation would cut premiums by an estimated $25 million.

Oil Production

Oil production in Texas continued to decline in April, down 16.52 per cent under the 110,023,058 barrel allowable for the month.

Reported Texas oil production averaged 3,057,488 barrels daily in April, down from 3,074,296 barrels daily for March.

Courts Speak

A San Antonio city ordinance regulating massage parlors, which could have state-wide implications, was upheld by the Texas Supreme Court last week.

The ordinance, requiring owners and masseurs to obtain permits from the chief of police after submitting detailed information on their operations, had been appealed by nine parlor owners and one masseuse.

The high court also re-

Dear editor:

There's a future problem facing this country the people ought to be giving some thought to. It's the Presidential libraries.

Although Gerald Ford served only two years, plans are now underway to build a Presidential library for his papers. Ground was recently broken for a library for John Kennedy. The Harry Truman library was built several years ago. The Lyndon Johnson library was completed a few years ago and is now crammed with millions of Presidential papers and other odds and ends. There's some random talk of building one for Richard Nixon.

Stop and think about this. If every President has to have a library when he leaves office, and if this nation endures for 1,000 years, do you realize how many libraries that's going to be? One hundred and twenty-five, if we have a retiring President every eight years.

Actually it'd be more than jected a petition challenging the right of legislator-lawyers to gain delays in lawsuits while the legislature is in session.

Attorneys for convicted mass-slayer Elmer Wayne Henley last week asked the Court of Criminal Appeals to grant their client a new trial contending his first trial in San Antonio was a circus.

While admitting the evidence against Henley in his first trial for slaying six teenage boys was overwhelming, defense attorneys contended he was denied a fair trial after the case was moved from Houston to San Antonio on a change of venue.

Henley, then 18, was sentenced in 1974 to serve 99 years on each of the six slayings.

you and the LAW

PRESENTED BY THE
STATE BAR OF TEXAS

Q: A tenant in my rent house signed a one-year lease, but she moved after five months when she decided she could no longer afford the rent. I spent more than twice the amount of her security deposit on repairs. Am I obligated to return her deposit or provide her with an itemized accounting of my costs?

A: State law requires you to return your tenant's security deposit, after subtracting for unpaid rent, repairs or other deductions allowed under the lease, within 30 days. However, if your tenant owed rent when she moved, an itemized accounting of deductions is not required. The tenant also remains liable for the rent due for the remainder of the lease, but this liability is reduced by the amount of any rent collected if the property is leased again.

Q: I've been trying to get some family property straightened out since my father died in 1968 and left the land to me and eight other heirs. Someone has been grazing cattle and keeping a mobile home on it for nine years without paying rent. Is it possible to have the cattle and mobile home moved off the property until all of the heirs agree on what to do with the property?

A: You may find it necessary to file an application in court for administration of the estate in order to estab-that, counting one-termers, future resignations, possible impeachments, etc., plus the libraries already built. Ought to come to over 150 at least. That is a passell of libraries, and they're going to get crowded, especially if one city winds up furnishing say 10 or 15 presidents. It might take a Constitutional amendment saying no two Presidents can come from the same town and still have a library.

Therefore I have an idea. Let's head off this library crisis before it gets out of hand. The thing to do is to build one huge pyramid in about the center of the country and put all the past and future President's papers and stuff in it, down to the last inaugural hat, pipe, bottled ship, First Lady's dresses and secret agreements with foreign countries.

Now nobody knows for sure how the Great Pyramids were built, but somebody in the military industrial complex, if given a cost-plus contract, ought to be able to get the hang of it. Egypt, where they are, would be a great place for junketing Congressmen to visit to study the things. They could come back by way of Paris.

If this country doesn't want to be over-run with Presidential libraries, we'd better get that U.S. pyramid started. It's more serious than you may think. There're plans afoot now to build libraries for ex-Congressmen. Will state Legislators and Justices of the Peace be next?

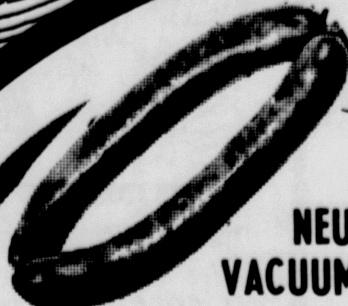

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

County Agent's Notes

DiapauseControl Worth Studying

By Bill McCutchen
Milam County Extension Agent

Talk to your neighbors this year and see if you can get your community interested in a weevil diapause control program this fall.

We have a possibility of getting a cotton crop out rather early this fall and a year where this is possible lends itself very well to dealing the cotton boll weevil a severe blow.

This can be done by adding an insecticide to your acid when defoliating and possibly another application or so if harvest is delayed.

Weevils start diapause in mid-August and the more of these weevils that can be prevented from going into hibernation the fewer will be around to menace your cotton crop next year.

One diapause program on a community basis was conducted in the Buckholts bottom about three years ago with some success. A program over a three year period or so can be very successful.

Williamson County conducted such a program last year over seven thousand acres and they are very pleased with the effort.

Talk it up. If you are interested we are and we would be happy to help you initiate such a program.

Melons Good Market Buy

AUSTIN--Texas watermelon and cantaloupe are one of the best buys on the market right now, according to Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown.

"Supplies are abundant," Brown explained, "due to transportation problems which have hampered Texas producers from marketing their melons out of state. While we hate to see our farmers shut out of the higher priced out-of-state markets, the Texas consumer can cash in on a good summertime buy."

Brown also said Texas onions were more plentiful than earlier anticipated. "Preliminary estimates indicated that this year's harvest would be very limited, but the crop has come in increasingly strong," he noted.

Farm Accidents Cost More Than Injuries

A staggering total of some 2,000 farm workers are killed on the job every year in this country. But in addition to these human losses, accidents cost much, much more!

"Generally, people do not recognize the true size of accident losses. The word 'accident' is often used incorrectly as a synonym for 'injury,'" says Dr. Gary S. Nelson, a safety engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "More correctly, an 'accident' is any unplanned, uncontrolled interruption of a planned activity which results or has the potential to result in a variety of losses."

Sometimes accidents cause personal injury, but often they cause a combination of economic losses which may not at first be obvious, notes the Texas A&M University System specialist.

"Individuals not only lose full earning power during injury recovery but may suffer

Free Mirex Available For County

Free Mirex for treatment of imported fire ants will be available to Milam County residents on Mondays from July 11 through July 25.

The Mirex is stored in the county Pct. 2 warehouse in Cameron north on Highway 77 and may be picked up on Mondays from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. and from 2-6 p.m.

Those needing the insecticide should bring their tax receipts to verify acreage for treatment -- one pound of bait will be given for each acre. Bring help to load it if you are getting over 50 pounds.

A representative of the State Agriculture Dept. will be on hand to answer questions about using the bait.

This will be the last chance to get Mirex as the manufacture of th bait has been stopped.

decreased lifetime earning power as well as decreased educational and vocational opportunities due to permanent physical injury," explains Nelson.

"Besides the obvious direct costs of medical care and equipment damage, accidents cause businesses to lose the valued talent and skill of their workers, cause increased insurance costs, and may trigger public liability and litigation costs. Production may also be lost due to unavailability of processing equipment due to damage."

When an accident occurs, businesses lose the productivity of the injured worker as well as that of other workers who are disrupted while attending to the accident victim's needs. Businesses owned and operated by one individual suffer the great losses of productivity and profits, emphasizes the safety engineer.

Other losses involve the cost of hiring replacement workers, the supervisor's time in training new workers, and the wage cost due to lower output of replacement workers during the break in period.

"Further costs are incurred," explains Nelson, "when products spoil because the injured worker is detained or unavailable to process them. Also, products may be damaged or spoiled by a worker because he is less efficient due to his injury or by a replacement worker due to inexperience."

Wage an production losses may be incurred further when workers are affected by the injured's lack of output or teamwork. There may be delays or work inefficiencies because the injured is temporarily absent or, after returning to work, is slow or needs help from others.

"The 'hidden costs' of accidents can be many times that of the obvious costs," contends Nelson. "When-accident losses are viewed in this light, a small investment in accident prevention can mean increased profits by minimizing losses and conserving the resources which maximize productivity."

Interest Rises On Loans

The federal interest rate on government-backed home loans was increased from 8 to 8.5 percent, effective May 31.

Max Cleland, Administrator of Veterans Affairs, said the new rate, established for Federal Housing Administration loans by the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development, also applies to Veterans Administration home loans.

Cleland said the increase was necessary to bring government rates in line with other competitive rates in the mortgage and financial markets.

The rate change does not affect existing VA home loans. Once a loan is made, the interest rate remains the same for the life of the loan. Also unaffected are rate for VA mobile-home loans, which are for short er terms and lesser loan amounts.

PRIME INVESTMENT OR how to GET in on A Meaty Deal.

In 1880, the meat packers had an idea they could sink their teeth into: refrigerated railway cars.

They made the transportation of meat a year-round business instead of just a winter investment.

And today there's an investment with a lot of meat to it that you can have year in and year out. United States Savings Bonds.

They're a prime investment because nobody's ever lost money taking stock in America.

And when you buy Bonds, you're not only preparing for your future, you're helping your country's future as well.

So join 9 1/2 million Americans who have signed up for the Payroll Savings Plan. Buy United States Savings Bonds.

And get some live stock for your future.

8 Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity of 5 years (4 1/2% the first year). Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

Take stock in America.

Jumping Rope New, Fashionable Activity

Jumping rope, once a children's game confined to playgrounds and sidewalks, has become fashionable.

Nonsense rhymes of childhood have been replaced by wheezing gasps of exertions as Americans work to bring down their weight and build up their stamina by skipping rope, the National Geographic Society says.

Until the current physical fitness campaign, virtually the only adults with jump ropes were prizefighters, for whom the exercise is as traditional as a cauliflower ear.

can increase a boxer's endurance. Today, basketball stars, tennis players, and other athletes are taking up the activity to keep in condition.

Jumping rope is touted as a way to improve coordination, burn off some excess calories, replace fat with muscle, and strengthen the cardiovascular system. But doctors warn it can put undue stress upon the heart if overdone.

It can also cause aching shins, sore joints, and backaches--unless the jumper wears soft-soled shoes, bends the knees, and jumps just high enough to clear the rope.

Fans, however, insist that a 10-minute workout with a rope is equal to half an hour of jogging. And, said one: "you don't have to go out in the rain and dodge traffic."

Adherents cite other advantages to jumping rope: It can be done in private, requires little space and even less cash outlay, and is portable. The director of a health club in Los Angeles notes that "the jump rope fits easily in a suitcase."

Models Getting Fancier

But as jumping rope has become popular, manufacturers have rushed into the market with fancier ropes. A purloined length of clothesline or a piece of No. 10 window sash cord no longer suffices.

BIRTHS

To Mr. and Mrs. Rick Hairston, a boy, Chad Anthony, 7 lbs. 1/2 oz. born July 4 at Kings Daughters Hospital.

To Mr. and Mrs. Donald Shuffield of Rockdale a girl, Amy Danette, 7 lbs., born July 7, at 1:15 a.m. at Richards Hospital.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Shuffield Jr. of Rockdale and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hanel of Cameron. Great-grandmother is Mrs. Frank Hanel of Cameron.

Instead, jump ropes come with wood or plastic handles, some with roller bearings, and at least one with a digital counter. The rope itself may be three-ply cotton, nylon or other synthetic yarns, or even leather.

For faster turning, one firm makes jump ropes in loops like a pliable chain to reduce wind resistance. The ropes also are available in bright hues and colorful stripes, but these can sometimes be hazardous.

An American visitor to Northern Ireland a few years ago reached for her jump rope only to have it jammed back into her handbag by her alarmed escort.

"Do you want to get us killed?" he asked. Pointing to its red, white, and blue pattern, he warned: "People will think you're asking their children to jump to the colors of the British flag."

Teens Need Clearly Defined Boundaries

Teenagers need clearly defined boundaries--with some freedom, says Dorothy Taylor, family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Parents have the right as well as the responsibility, to establish guidelines that might help to reduce their teenager's vulnerability to peer pressures," Miss Taylor says.

"Young people want, above all, to be accepted among their own families and friends and, of course, as long as they follow the leader, there is peace at home and with friends.

"But failure to conform or to 'do as we do' subjects the teenager to name-calling, ridicule and outright snubbing, especially by other teens.

"It is here that parental boundaries can save the teenager from hurtling in a foolish or even dangerous direction," she advises.

Mean while, teens yearn to escape the confines of home. They need to feel a to feel a part of their generation and to show their "belonging" in obvious ways

Homecoming Set

The Ben Arnold Homecoming will be held on Sunday 17, at the VFW Hall on the Temple Hwy. Everybody is invited. Bring a picnic lunch.

The term "Googol," for 1 followed by 100 zeros, was invented by a famous mathematician who took a term supplied by a very young nephew.

TO WED - Mr. and Mrs. Stewart J. Perkins of Fairfield announce the engagement of their daughter, Leslie Janette, to Richard Andrew Watkins, son of Mrs. Betty Sue Watkins of Rockdale and William A. Watkins of Cameron. The couple plans a September 17 wedding at the First United Methodist Church in Cameron.

Cheerleader Member Of Who's Who

Diana Chubb, a cheerleader at Yoe High School, has been recognized by the Association of Distinguished Young Americans as a member of Who's Who Among American High School Cheerleaders.

The honoree is subsequently eligible for ADYA all American recognition and a $1000 college scholarship.

The association strives to honor outstanding students for leadership, service, and contributions to their school and community. A very small percentage of cheerleaders nationwide receive this high honor.

Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Nenson and children are home after an extended camping trip at Lake Somerville. Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Lawrence and family spent the day with them at the lake and enjoyed barbecue and swimming.

'Dial-a-help'

AUSTIN, Texas (Spl.) — A popular telephone number (471-3313) at The University of Texas could be dubbed "dial-a-help."

It offers students 24-hour-a-day access to 150 short tape-recorded messages that help them with problems of everyday life — from coping with stress to the sophomore blues. The tapes, each five to eight minutes long, cover a variety of topics from health to studying difficulties. The most-called-for tape is "Love and Infatuation."

No less than 100 calls are received daily in the telephone tape program of UT's Counseling and Psychological Services Center. The program recently was judged the most innovative of its kind in an 11-state area of the South.

Alert to Parents!

When we ask you to please recognize the signs of cystic fibrosis and other lung-damaging diseases, we're not trying to alarm you.

Look at it this way. If your child does NOT have C F or another serious lung-damaging disease, he has nothing to lose by checking with a doctor, or taking a simple diagnostic test.

If your child DOES have C F, or another condition that could damage his lungs, he has a lot to lose by not having the chance for early diagnosis and prompt effective medical care.

So, when you look at it like that... we hope you'll look at this and learn the following:

SIGNS OF LUNG-DAMAGING DISEASE

1. Recurrent wheezing
2. Persistent coughing/excessive mucus
3. Pneumonia more than once
4. Excessive appetite/poor weight gain
5. Clubbing (enlargement of fingertips)

Cystic fibrosis signs also may include: salty taste of the skin; persistent, bulky diarrhea; nasal polyps.

Sen. Bentsen Seeks Limit On U.S. Corps Authority

Senator Lloyd Bentsen has asked a Senate subcommittee to approve legislation he has introduced that would clarify a court ruling which has caused delays and driven up costs on several water projects in Texas.

Bentsen made the remarks in testimony submitted before the Senate subcommittee on Environmental Pollution, of which he is a member.

"I am confident that in 1972 no member of this subcommittee foresaw or endorsed the sweeping and burdensome effects that Section 404 of the Water Pollution Control Act would have on thousands of American citizens," the Senator said.

"The intention, in adding this section, was to control pollution from dredge and fill activities on our nation's navigable waterways by requiring permits for such work from the Corps of Engineers. It was not intended that this program would apply to ponds, stock tanks, small streams, irrigation ditches or dry creeks that flow only during heavy rains."

"Nor was it intended to apply to routine activities of farmers and ranchers, or to private landowners with small creeks running through their properties."

"However, since the courts have ruled that the term 'navigable waters' in Section 404 applies to virtually all waters in the country, that has been the result," Bentsen said.

Senator Bentsen noted that the Corps issued 2,900 dredging and filling permits in 1974. But under Phase III of Corps regulations implementing Section 404, which was to go into effect Friday, that number is expected to rise to 30,000-50,000 a year.

Bentsen, in his testimony, said that even under the less restrictive phase II of the implementation program the red tape and regulations of applying for Corps permits have delayed several locally funded water and sewer projects in Texas.

But wherever it shines . . . there are shadows.

Wherever there are golden opportunities there are also sombre tragedies. Some fail to grasp their blessings.

Ours is a nation which guarantees to every child the opportunity for religious training. Yet ours is a nation which smarts under the scourge of a moral disease—juvenile delinquency.

In blessing you with a son or daughter, God has entrusted to you a precious soul. You are required by law to give your child a secular education. But, despite the scourge of delinquency, a free nation must leave to your conscience the question of your child's moral and religious education.

God has blessed America. With a nearby Church ready and eager to provide Christian training for your child, and religious foundation for your family's life—the Sun shines bright. But there are shadows. You must decide!

ACTION at Rockdale's newly opened Moto-Cross Park Sunday. Participants from all over Texas converged on the track for the opening day of events. Races are scheduled for every second and fourth Sunday of each month.

Area Moto-Cross On Upswing ...

Story And Photos By Mike Peck

Dirt Bikers Flock To Rockdale's New Moto Cross Park

What is moto-cross without a little dust and a lot of action? Well to those who know the sport as riders or spectators, moto-cross minus dust and action is really not moto-cross at all. In fact to those participants involved in racing action at the newly opened Rockdale Moto-Cross track Sunday, a little dust meant nothing at all as over 110 bikes and riders were on hand for the day long affair.

Racing action began around noon, continuing throughout the afternoon, with bikes ranging in size from mini-bike to 250, with riders from Austin, Killeen, Cameron, San Antonio, Cedar Park, Copperas Cove, Waco and Bryan testing their skills in hopes of trophies or cash prizes.

While being far from the fastest bikes to hit the moto-cross track, the mini-bike class was filled with enough action to keep the spectators eye on the track, and attention on racing. Two Austinites headed the list of winners in the mini-bike division, Mark Fisher of Austin took the first place honors, while Barney Hendrix ran a close second and Scott Crowder of Kemper took third.

The 100cc class saw Glen Dutton of Austin take the first place honors, with Alan Crossnell also of Austin sweep second, Elmer Millison of Killeen passed the checkered flag for third.

The 125 and 250cc classes are broken down into three sections, novice, intermediate, and expert. Rhea Robinson of Bryan swept the 125 Novice class, with Joey Bilello of Waco taking second and Steve Turner of Cedar Park nabbing third. Roger Serrano of Austin swept the 125 intermediate class, Joey Hight of Copperas Cove and Chuck Hayes of Bryan taking second and third respectively. The 125 Expert class was taken by Pat Adamson of Killeen, with Bill Howle and Billy Harrison both of Austin, wrapping up second and third respectively.

Gene Sharp of Austin rode his way to victory in the 250 novice class, finishing just ahead of Ken Hill of Waco, and Bruce Beltrami of Fort Hood who finished at second and third respectively.

Cameron's Eddy Coker was the overall winner in the 250cc intermediate class, with Joe Whitter of Austin taking second and Tom Holten of Temple finishing third. 250 and open experts class saw Ricky Blackwell of Austin win that race hands down, with Spencer Adams of San Antonio trailing for second and John Williamson taking third.

Mike West of Converge took the first place honors in the open intermediate class. Paul Zabor of Austin was second and Bryan Tillson of Austin was third, completing a long day of racing action.

In a short speech after the race, track manager Bill Hobbs apologized for the dust and confusion, and a few other problems that naturally plague any tracks opening day, and assured riders that the problems would be ironed out in the weeks to come.

In conclusion the tracks opening day could be termed a success for all involved, in short moto-cross in the cen-tex area is on the upswing again.

Texas Grand Prix Winner Eyes American Parts 200

Tom Sneva, the former Spokane, Washington high school principal got off to a good start towards his first National Championship by winning the Texas Grand Prix last April and looks forward to coming back to Texas for the American Parts 200 on Sunday, July 31.

The race will be the ninth in the United States Auto Club Championship trail for the Citicorp Cup.

Two years ago Sneva had a bad accident in turn two during the Indianapolis 500 and staged a miraculous comeback two months later by winning his first championship race at Michigan International Speedway.

ternational Speedway.

He had a disappointing season last year and was benched for the Benihana World Series of Auto Racing last October by car owner Roger Penske in favor of Mario Andretti.

But Sneva came back again by winning the Grand Prix in April, then came back to Indianapolis where he became the first driver in history to officially exceed the 200 mile per hour barrier qualifying, winning the coveted pole position and went on to a second place finish behind A.J. Foyt.

Tom then went on to win the Pocono 500 taking the lead in the point standings for the National Championship.

Report Details Water Diversions

The Texas Water Rights Commission has completed its investigations and published a report on diversions of public water for other than domestic or livestock uses in the "Little River Segment" of the Brazos River Basin.

This segment consists of the Little River and its tributaries from the confluence of the Lampasas and Leon Rivers downstream to the confluence of the Little River with the Brazos River, and including portions of Milam County.

The Report and Commission Order contained therein initiate the adjudication process for the Little River segment. This is one of several such actions since the Water Rights Adjudication Act was enacted by the Texas Legislature in 1967.

At some future date, possibly as early as 1979, the Commission will furnish to all affected parties a notice of adjudication in accordance with Section 5.306 of the Texas Water Code and a set of claim forms to be completed and filed as required by Section 5.307 of the Texas Water Code.

Each claimant will also be notified of a date, time and place for a jurisdictional hearing and of subsequent hearings of each individual claim. These hearings will be for the purpose of determining the extent of the validity of each claim of right to use water in the Little River Segment.

The report is now available for inspection in the Commission's office in Austin, or in the offices of the County Clerk of Milam County.

Persons known by the Commission to be using State water for other than domestic or livestock purposes in the Little River segment may find their diversion points and places of use listed in the written report and located in the appendix.

Copies of the Investigation report and of the Appendix, or portions thereof, may be obtained at a reasonable cost from the Texas Water Rights Commission, Stephen F. Austin State Office Building, P.O. Box 13207, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711. Any inquiries are welcomed by the Commission by mail or by phone at 512/475-4666.

JCPenney Aids Texas Economy

DALLAS

Marvin L. Tanner, regional vice president of J.C. Penney Company, Inc., announced today that the company contributed more than $279 million to Texas' economy during 1976.

Purchases from state manufacturers accounted for $190.3 million in merchandise which was distributed throughout the company's 1,989 J.C. Penney, The Treasury, and Thrift Drug stores in the U.S., he said.

Combined payrolls in Texas amounted to more than $85.7 million, going to approximately 28,057 full and part-time associates. The company employs 183,000 full-time nationally and overseas.

Tanner said the retailer paid about $3.4 million in corporate, property, use and employment insurance taxes in Texas.

"Additionally, our retail stores collected many millions of dollars in sales taxes for state and local governments," he said.

"Texas has been very important to our company throughout the years. We opened our first store in the state at Dalhart in 1917 and we've always tried to operate in a manner that best benefits our Texas customers," Tanner added.

At year-end, J.C. Penney operated 186 retail and support units in the state, including 134 J.C. Penney department Stores.

version should ask for Publication 586S.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Poker Face On The Bench?

How neutral does a judge have to be in conducting a trial? That was the issue in The Case of the Smiling Judge. A man had been found guilty of assault, and his attorney appealed to a higher court on the following ground: "Just as one of the defense witnesses was telling his story, the judge broke into a smile. The implication was obvious: he thought the witness was lying. Although the judge told the jury not to be influenced by his smile, the damage had already been done. The jury got the message and brought in a verdict of guilty."

However, the appellate court refused to set aside the verdict. The court said the judge's smile was just too minor an element, in an otherwise fair trial, to make the entire proceedings null and void.

Of course, a trial judge is supposed to be as neutral as possible. Ideally, he should keep a poker face at all times, since his facial expressions may well speak as loudly as words.

But the law also recognizes that judges, being only human, cannot be in total control of their emotions. Thus, another appellate court decided it was "most natural" for a judge to grin when a man named Ananias was sworn in as a witness.

On the other hand, a verdict may indeed be overturned on appeal if the trial judge made his feelings too convincingly clear.

In another case, involving a deadly weapons charge, the judge kept referring to the accused as a "graduate of Sing Sing." Again, the jury's guilty verdict was carried to a higher court on grounds of judicial misbehavior.

This time, the verdict was thrown out. Criticizing the trial judge for letting his feelings get out-of-hand, the appellate court said:

"The function of the judge is to preserve the rights of both the people and the accused, not to insure victory or defeat for either (side)."

Yogurt, the loving spoonful!!!
Yogurt has been an important dairy food for thousands of years from Iceland to Africa, from Asia to Europe, from South America to Australia. But the western world really "discovered" yogurt in 1908 when the two bacterial cultures that cause fermentation and flavor development were identified. Surprisingly, it was not until 1940, that yogurt made its American debut. Today, yogurt has a firmly entrenched place in our diets. The appealing flavor and its low fat diet food image has made it a favorite. Because it is made from concentrated milk, it provides calcium, phosphorus and water soluble vitamins. Yogurt is an excellent source of calcium and riboflavin. The nutritional and calorie content can vary from one manufacturer to another, depending on ingredients. (Check the carton for nutritional data—or write to the manufacturer). One 8 oz. cup of plain yogurt contains about 120-160 calories. Generally, fruit flavored varieties provide 240-260 calories because of the added sugars and fruits. For more information, please write.
